divided India then my family moved to Meerut. As a child I was never so interested in studies but eventually under certain circumstances I returned in to the path of success. This path led me to the gate of KGMC Lucknow, the only Dental College in UP. After graduating I was selected as Direct Permanent Commission Officer in Army. After my retirement from army, I joined Swami Vivekanand Dental College as professor . In the year 2014 I was promoted to Director General Administration of Subharti. I also worked as Pro VC and Channel Head of Subhart media. Finally I am serving this university as a Vice Chancellor since April 2015.

Q. Who has played the major supporting role in your life?

Ans: My parents had always motivated me and helped me to develop my self-confidence. They have always been my inspiration and guide.

Q. How do you see the university in present scenario and what changes you want to implement in the future?

Ans: In any organization, the basic principle of development starts from top to bottom. The university is also implementing this principle under my guidance.

Q. What steps are taken by university to enhance the future of the children of laborers who work in the campus day and night?

Ans: There is a vision of our founder Dr. Atul Krishna to educate each and every child. In order to fulfill this vision, the University is running a school named 'Ishwar Chandra Vidya Sagar' for primary education of such children. We are also starting certified program in various professional fields such as welding, bakery, plumbing, carpenting, etc in nominal fees.

Q. What was the most difficult decision of your life?

Ans: Not a single decision of my life was difficult for me and I insist that every individual should follow his/her own self decisions rather than depending on others. Always perform your task with complete devotion to make it successful.

Q. What is your message for the students of Subharti University?

Ans: 'Discipline' and 'honoring your commitment', according to me are two basic pillars of success for every youth.

LIFE PASSES YOU BY

you never know when the life passes you by all you need is to figure and the path follows

when you are alone the thinking gets bigger and the picture gets clearer the foggy clouds over your head washed away
the rain of hope

gets you and you never know the life passes you by you remain you no changes being made no cracks are built but it sure get bigger your soul

the scope
the meaning
the life get (pause) passed you by your not alone

cause you are here lying with your silence deepens with time so you are you, the new you with purpose if you're still in dark then the search takes you there wait there , wait for it cause you are not alone life will surely passes you by

Students of Journalism learned the techniques of scripting

Subhartipuram : Ganesh Shankar Institute of Journalism and Mass communication organized a workshop on Script Writing techniques on 16th March 2016.

The program was inaugurated by Dean of the faculty Dr. Dharmendra Singh. While detailing on the techniques of writing Associate producer of AajTak News Channel Hemant Mishra said that the success of every media depends upon their script quality. It is the role of writer who designs every style and presentation of news story. Further, he defined the role and responsibilities of news and scrip writer. Detailing the presentation of news style, he focused on the entire team behind the anchors where scrip writer plays a vital role. He set an example of novel writers and compared the importance of words in script writing.

He said that writing in regional languages is good but we cannot ignore the importance of learning our mother language Hindi. By defining the writing procedure of crime story, he also taught the students to write news channel script. He stressed on using simple and nominal words for effective writing. He said there is no such language of writing in journalism which requires any practice rather it is all about implying your skill in writing.

The session was finally concluded by presenting Hemant Mishra a memento of Swami Vivekanand. Vice Principle Dr. Neeraj Karan Singh, Assistant Professor Arvind Kumar, Deepa Rani, Surendra Kumar, Gunjan Sharma and Rakesh Kumar gave their best contribution in making this event successful.

Education is the soul of equality Youth's View

Aman Somani

India is a developing nation and it can achieve the height of development only if it is able to maintain equality among its citizens. The constitution is also framed to provide fair and impartial rights to every individual. To gain fraternity, sovereignty and equality, firstly we have to maintain the level of impartial education. Thereby, Subharti University took an initiative to educate those children for whom education was merely a dream. "Iswar Chandra Vidya Sagar Bal Shramik Vidyalaya" authenticates the fact that if given a platform where every individual can prove their identity. These students mainly come from family of those laborers who are indulged in several construction works in the university campus. This school maintains the decorum, discipline, culture and provides uniforms to put a spotlight on the message of equality. Basic education which these students are being provided in the school will definitely help them in framing their tomorrow. These unprivileged students are also being provided with those essential amenities which a student of convent school receives. In order to develop our nation, we needs to develop a strong base and today's youth is no doubt contributing as a very strong support in this perspective. By educating these unprivileged sections of the society, Subharti University is indirectly contributing in nation building. It wouldn't be surprising if tomorrow we find various students of this school working on several higher position and directly contributing in the development of our nation.
